Salt Lake City --- The Transplant Life Foundation announced that national recording artists and Provo natives, The Moth & The Flame, will headline the Donate Life Transplant Games Opening Ceremony.

About to release their newest album, TMTF is comprised of Provo natives, Brandon Robbins, Mark Garbett and Andrew Tolman.

Kicking-off five days of events and competitions, the Opening Ceremony will be held Friday, August 3 at Smith's Ballpark. Gates will open at 6pm, with festivities starting at 6:45pm and the band performing at 8:45pm. Tickets for this event are free to the public and availability will be announced in the coming days.

"I've gotten to know Moth front man, Brandon Robbins, over the last year. In addition to his incredible musical talent, I'm not sure that I've ever met anyone as selfless. He is truly an inspiration and I am so honored to have the opportunity to work with him, Mark and Andrew," said Transplant Games producer, Sue Brady.

"The transplant community is my family now, and Utah is where the band was born, to perform in this place for these amazing people will really feel like home," exclaimed Robbins.

The Donate Life Transplant Games is a multi-sport festival event produced by the Transplant Life Foundation for individuals who have undergone life-saving transplant surgeries. Competition events are open to living donors, organ transplant recipients, bone marrow, corneal and tissue transplant recipients. More than an athletic event, the Donate Life Transplant Games highlight the critical importance of organ, eye, and tissue donation, while celebrating the lives of organ donors and recipients.
